LIVING THE CITY

BARI

Bari is the capital of Apulian region and it is located on the Adriatic sea (southern Italy). It is an explosion of life, a dynamic and port city whose shape makes it attractive both for tourists and for students. It is the second most important economic centre of Southern Italy after Naples, and it is well known for its huge port and for Saint Nicholas.

The city center is divided into the old town - the so-called "Barivecchia" - and the "Murat district".

Barivecchia is characterized by the white houses and narrow streets through which it is possible to see local women making orecchiette.

SVEVO

CATHEDRAL OF SAN SABINO

Bari Vecchia can count, as well, on two very lively squares: Piazza del Ferrarese and Piazza del Mercantile. Both of them are filled with coffee shops and restaurants and have become an important place for Bari's nightlife. These squares lead to Muraglia di Bari (Wall of Bari) which offers a breathtaking view on the seaside.

In the heart of the old town there is one of the major pilgrimage destinations, a jewel of Romanesque-Apulian architecture, the Basilica of San Nicola. Not far away is the Cathedral of San Sabino, built on the ruins of the ancient Byzantine cathedral.

SAN NICOLA

EVENTS AND ACTIVITIES

Bari offers a lot of indoor and outdoor activities. Here some of the most important national and international fairs and festivals take place. You can count on cinemas and theatres as well- such as Petruzzelli Theatre, which is the fourth largest Italian theatre. During spring and summer you cannot miss parks and beaches.

FAIRS, FEASTS & FESTIVAL

- Fiera del Levante, one of the largest fairs in Europe with more than 550 exhibitors from all over the world.
- Patronal feast of San Nicola is noteworthy as for this event the city dresses up and through the streets it is possible to feel and live the local traditions.
- Bif&st: international movies festival.
- Chilling out at the beach - such as Pane e Pomodoro beach - and at parks (2 Giugno Park, Caserma Rossani Park, etc).
- Shopping: the city has one major shopping area, that goes from Via Sparano street to Corso Cavour street. There are, as well, a lot of shopping malls right out of the city.

CINEMAS & THEATRES

Bari has a lot of cinemas including two multiplex cinemas (Galleria, Showville).

The city counts on different theatres, among which it is mandatory to mention Petruzzelli Theatre, which is the fourth largest Italian theatre, as well as the largest private theatre in Europe.

Other theatres: Margherita Theatre, Piccinni Theatre, Kursal Theatre, etc.

TRADITIONAL EATING

Panzerotto is a gastronomic specialty of street food. It is a fried filled dough, closed on itself to form a half-moon. The traditional one is filled with tomato and mozzarella.

Focaccia barese is a leavened baked bread, seasoned with tomatoes, olives, virgin olive oil, and oregano. It is made with poor, very simple, and local ingredients.

BARI OFFERS A REAL JOURNEY INTO ITS FOOD CULTURE, STARTING FROM ITS STREET FOODS.

It is worth tasting special dishes coming from the eating tradition of Bari, such as: orecchiette (pasta made only from semolina, water and salt, their rough surface holds onto sauces and allows them to be prepared in a variety of ways) and patate riso e cozze (rice, potatoes, and mussels).

TIP
It is very typical in Bari eating raw seafood: octopus, mussels and squids.

CONNECTIONS

How to get to Bari

Bari is the main city of Apulia Region, as well one of the biggest in Southern Italy. It is well connected to airport and railway station.

The Bari Karol Wojtyła Airport is one of the biggest airports in Southern Italy and provides service to cities all over Italy and Europe. Lowcost airlines like Ryanair and Wizzair both fly to Bari, so it is often possible to find very affordable flights.

From the airport there is a direct connection by train to the city centre which takes 15 mins and costs about € 5. Otherwise it is possible to use bus service provided by Tempesta Servizi - usually it takes 30 mins to get to the city centre.

Bari is on the rail line running along the eastern coast from Rimini to Lecce and about four hours by train from Rome on the rail line across Italy. The train station is centrally located in the city, a short walk from the historic center, and next to the bus station.

Railway tickets providers: Ferrovie dello Stato and ItaloTreno.

Transportation in Bari

Bari also offers city transport services managed by the AMTAB Company (ticket price: from € 1 to € 1.50). The MUVT APP allows you to purchase and use electronic tickets for public transport without having to use the old paper ticket.

Among the green means of transport, the city offers a service of bike and e-scooter sharing, easily accessible through apps such as BIT Mobility, TIER, Lime, VAIMOO Bike Sharing.

COST OF LIVING

Living in Bari as a student is cheaper than in bigger Italian cities, such as Milan, Turin or Rome. You may find that the cost of goods and services in Italy is quite different to your own country. How much you spend of course depends on your own lifestyle, but here is an approximate guide to what you can expect to pay as a student at POLIBA. Your daily, weekly and monthly costs will mostly be for your accommodation, food, entertainment and bills. It's important to be prepared and to budget carefully.

WAHID EHTISHAM

"The experience of being a Ph.D. student in POLIBA has been exceptional for me. Academically, I feel POLIBA is excelling day by day. I have learned skills and knowledge beyond my expectations. Research activities at POLIBA are very organized and well-funded. POLIBA has a well-developed connection within industries and international organizations. One of my favorite parts of research activities is the availability of foreign period. This enables us to have insite about research being carried out in other parts of the world as well as to share knowledge. Though for foreign students language is an issue but POLIBA organize courses to teach basic Italian. There are many academic and social organizations working in POLIBA that not only help you to get exposure but also help you build social life. Local students are generally really nice, helpful and wonderful hosts. The food in Bari, Italy is amazing. You can find all kinds of food, and since the city is not too big, everything is available in walking range. I think one cannot find Panzerotti as Bari, Italy anywhere else. The city of Bari in particular and Italy in general has an impeccable cultural background, above all the people in south still on to hold their traditions which is fascinating to witness. Lastly, I have extremely enjoyed traveling in Italy. The vast network of transportation system has made it easy for students like us to reach far of place in Italy. Apart from Italy, because of geographical location of Italy, I have been able to travel to other European countries around it like France. Overall, for me it is a life changing experience."

"The university offers excellent research opportunities and a supportive educational environment. The act of engaging in collaborative efforts with professors and fellow researchers has yielded substantial growth in my knowledge and research aptitude. I've been fortunate to make friends both within the university and in the local community, which has enriched my experience and enhanced my knowledge of Italian culture. The hospitable ambience of the city has engendered a sense of belonging and comfort inside me. I've enjoyed exploring the rich cultural heritage of Bari, from historic landmarks to vibrant festivals. The local cuisine, particularly the fresh seafood, has been a delightful culinary adventure. Exploring the picturesque towns and beautiful coastline of Puglia has been a highlight of my time in Bari."

BAHMAN ASKARI

"During my tenure as a Ph.D. student in Electrical and Information Engineering at Politecnico di Bari from 2020 to 2023, I had the privilege of experiencing life in a beautiful city that is not only located near the sea but also boasts incredible weather. Bari's strategic location next to an international airport provided me with seamless travel options, including direct flights to various destinations, making exploration beyond the city's borders convenient.

The cost of accommodation and food in Bari was reasonable, fitting well within my budget. My Ph.D. journey had its share of highs and lows, but overall, it was a rewarding experience. In addition to my academic and research activities at Poliba, I seized the opportunity to spend one year of my Ph.D. abroad. During my initial stay, there were limited international students in the city, which sometimes posed challenges for social interactions. However, I have observed a positive shift recently, with a notable increase in the number of international students at the university. It is clear that the university is actively working to attract more students from around the world, enriching the social fabric and cultural diversity.

One aspect that presented some difficulties during my stay was finding suitable accommodation as a foreign student. However, the overall experience in Bari was memorable, marked by personal growth and valuable research opportunities."

"I met many cool people from all over EU and formed lasting friendships. I lived in a Stanza Semplice flat close to Poliba, with fellow students which was also great. I enjoyed the ESN events to get to know people. All the restaurants close to Poliba and my home were just awesome and affordable. Lastly, I have to give a shout out to Martino De Carlo and Luca De Cicco who were awesome professors that taught me a lot during the semester. They have a great style of teaching and the project were challenging, but as a consequence I learned a lot."

RODION GJORK 34 y.o. - ALBANIAN

"I was engaged with my doctoral mobility period from April 2023 - July 2023. The relationship and facilitation with Erasmus office at Poliba was excellent. Exchanges, consultations and communication with Prof. Umberto Berardi and Prof. De Filippis were very professional. Together with my mobility colleagues, we were staying at a villa near Mariotto in the middle of olive fields and everything was amazing. Food and night life were also amazing in Bari."
