Strategy & Consulting Analyst [Online/Phone Recruitment]

Milan, Turin

Your challenges

Have you finished university and are undecided whether to start a career in Automotive or Banking? Are you attracted to Retail but have an interest in the Energy sector? Don't limit your curiosity, join our pool of young talent in Strategy and Consulting and help our customers by putting yourself to the test on projects in different markets: Banking, Insurance, Aerospace, Automotive, Retail, Consumer Goods, Industrial, Energy, Utilities, Life Sciences, Public Services, Telco and Media. This is your chance to acquire a unique working method and increasingly strategic transversal business skills in consulting.

Together with experienced colleagues you will be involved in:

- Analysing and redesigning the main business departments (Supply Chain & Operations, Finance, HR, Sales & Marketing) key processes, applying the most innovative approaches and technologies such as Artificial Intelligence, RPA and IoT
- Assessing, managing, and preventing corporate risks
- Defining and introducing solutions which can support an omnichannel transformation
- Supporting project management by adopting methodologies such as Design Thinking and Agile that will offer you a unique growth opportunity
- Collecting, updating, and sharing of project documents to ensure their correct progress and being a reference point for the customer and work team

Behind every successful Accenture project there is an innovative strategy. You'll aid business evolution by giving space to intuition and creativity. You will work with top professionals where you can express your value.
